

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

FIFTH ANNUAL MEETING,

HELD IN INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA, APRIL 12TH AND 13TH, 1876,

IN FIRST CHURCH.

REPORT OF HOME SECRETARY.

The fifth annual convocation of the mission workers of this region must be a jubilee in this Centennial year of our nation. The first tree planted years ago, in this new country, was the cross. In all seasons it has budded, blossomed, and borne rich fruit. Millions of people have eaten of this fruit, and grown strong in righteousness, thereby becoming fit representatives for Him who died upon that tree, that all men through that death might have eternal life. We believe we have partaken of that healing food, and we are permitted to carry or send it to others. Can any honor be greater, or joy deeper than ours? Have we improved our privileges? I dare not answer, for I remember the Israelitish king was reproved for numbering his army. His glory was not in numbers of soldiers, but in work done; in victories won. So our honor will be only in souls won from sin.

The past year we have formed 127 new Societies and Bands. These have assisted us in assuming the support of 7 new missionaries, 21 new schools, 27 new pupils, and 7 Bible readers.

Once more I must ask you to make an effort to spread the circulation of our Magazine, Woman's Work for Woman, and our new Magazine for the young, Children's Work for Children. When these and similar publications, which are within the reach of every society, are thoroughly read, your missionary meetings will be more fully attended, for every one will have something to tell, and your members will not expect the machinery to run of itself.

You remember last year you voted to raise a special fund, as our celebration for this Centennial year. Hundreds of dollars have followed the pledge. But the year has twelve months, and before it closes these hundreds should be thousands, for the gold and silver belong to our Lord. Is there not, in every society, some member who can do no other work, who would be willing, by personal invitation, to collect these dollar pledges? Do you realize why we constantly ask for money, money? Scores of men and women have said, we are desirous to teach the heathen about the atonement of Jesus Christ, but "how can we teach, except we are sent?" And we have been made ashamed, that you forced us to reply, "We cannot send you this year, because we have no money." Pitiful reply, for it wounds our Saviour. Will you, can you, treat Him so another year?

The reports of the auxiliary societies have seemed to me like Autumn leaves, falling to give place another year to a richer growth. I have woven them into a wreath for you to-day. I find some reflect the brightness of the rays of the Sun of Righteousness with which they were painted. Some are only dotted with gold. Some are a dull brown. These last were not satisfied with the gentle dew each night, and the mild sunshine each day. They asked, in order to perfect their growth, a long summer and a great shower, which never came, and so they languished. This, in human language, means, "If we could only have a missionary to talk to us, we should work well."

Some of you have had such a pleasure in the past, but after a little while you grew lukewarm. Such magnetism is neither necessary nor lasting. You all have at hand means of information, if you will take time to read and study. If the heathen asked as much to keep them in the right way after they have found it, we could never find workers enough to spread the Gospel, and we might better abandon the idea. Each one of you has talents, and you must use them and become self-reliant. Shall we try to raise others, and seek any strength ourselves except our common Redeemer? The missionary comes home to rest, so that in due time he may go again to the work he loves best. We ought not to ask much of them here. Mr. Coan and Mr. Corbett have visited us, and cheered many hearts, but their time was limited. May their reward be, strength to work in Persia and China rather than in America. The Everlasting Arms will be underneath them and ourselves always, and at last lift us all with the ransomed heathen into everlasting rest. That rest will be intensified by the work done here. Are you thoroughly consecrated, Christian women? If not, imbibe the spirit of the Master in this meeting, and return to your homes willing "to spend and be spent" in His service.

REPORT OF FOREIGN SECRETARY.

It was very early in the morning—a spring morning in Judea,—and Mary Magdalen stood by an open, empty sepulchre. Two angels in white told her that Christ was risen, and bade her proclaim it to His disciples; and she hastened to do so. A little later, as she waited again before the tomb, and wept for her Lord, lo! He appeared and called her Mary, and she answered Him, Rabboni! and He bade her go tell His brethren, I ascend unto my Father and your Father, and to my God and your God.

So to woman, sorrowful, “forgiven much” and “loving much,” was the command first given to preach a risen Savior.

Eighteen hundred and seventy-six years have passed since then, and all the while the Marys have been telling by life and by words, “Christ is risen, is risen indeed.”

And now in the one-hundredth year of our Republic and the sixth of our organization, we gather to read and to hear a few entries from the records written by Presbyterian women of the Northwest, of woman’s work for woman, knowing well that by far the most and by far the best of these records are written where God only reads them.

AMERICAN INDIANS.

During the past year our interest in the Creek nation has been greatly deepened by correspondence with Mrs. Robertson, who devotes herself with rare enthusiasm to the translation of the Bible into the Creek language. The society in Denver, Col., have given generous aid to her, and the Westminster Band, Detroit, continue their donations to this mission. But it is pitiful not to be able to offer the $100 needed to continue publishing the one newspaper for the Creeks.

Miss Calhoun reports decided improvement in the discipline of her school among the Dacotahs. Her pupils seem to have learned more the value of their opportunities. It is with both regret and pleasure that we bid her God-speed in her new work as the wife of one of the missionaries of the A. B. C. F. M., four hundred miles further into the land of the red men.

Miss Dougherty continues her work at Odanah with cheerful zeal and with renewed tokens of God's blessing. She writes that on New Year's day they spent an hour of morning service in the church, "consecrating the new year to Him to whom it belongs." Oh! that the churches could go out, like Samson, and shake themselves free from their apathy toward Indians, and learn to believe that God can save them!

MEXICO.

Last summer we assumed half the expense of the school in Zacatecas, and the same amount toward the school in Cos. Mrs. Thompson's lack of health has obliged her to return to this country, and the school at Zacatecas is closed. We have paid our share of expense for the school at Cos, and we trust that the intense interest of the religious movement in Mexico will aid our societies in patient giving and praying for this school, during the long and to us unavoidable delay in direct communication with it.

BRAZIL.

In Brazil we wished for work and it has been given us. We have there three schools—at Rio Novo, Brotas, and Gomez; all these are assumed by auxiliaries, whose prayers, as well as their money, should be gladly given to work of such abounding promise. Miss Dascomb, supported by a sister organization,* is liberal in the information and the inspiration which she imparts to us. The letters and reports which she sends give fresh evidence of the power of the Bible, and make us long more and more to have it read and followed everywhere. May God deepen and widen our zeal for the foreign work upon our own hemisphere, and give us willing and earnest supporters for the new work which we undertake in of which we hope soon to hear through Mrs. Curtiss, our missionary there.

CHINA.

With Miss Downing's work in Chefoo, we have been brought into fresh sympathy by the accounts of Rev. Hunter Corbett. Her school is maintained with earnestness. In her report of the year's progress, we find such items as these: One pupil has committed to memory from Matthew on through 2nd Corinthians; another has learned from Matthew on through John. Three have committed, each, Matthew and one-half of John; and "the stupid scholar of the school" has learned one-half the Gospel of John. All this is in addition to other lessons and housework. We can but wonder how many children of Christians at home are so studying the Scriptures. Miss Downing's work among the women around her school is a commemoration of Christ's words, "I was sick and in prison, and ye came unto me." The new school at Chimeh is now in the estimates, and is given to our care. Who will assume it?

At Ningpo we have seven scholarships under the care of Miss

* Philadelphia Society.

Sellers,* and at Shanghai seven under the care of Mrs. Farnham.* At Shanghai, a school opened by our own missionary, Mrs. Holt, will soon demand our support at a cost of $100.

In Canton, where a year ago we had only one pupil, we have now five women supported in the training school by Logansport, Indiana.

In these schools, as well as others, we share the work and write to the missionaries of sister organizations.

JAPAN.

Our correspondence with Mrs. Carrothurs,* in Japan, increases our desire to aid in the wonderful religious developments in this land; developments which remind us of the prophesy that "a nation shall be born in a day." Exactly how we can best aid in the work here does not yet appear. Here, too, is room for patient waiting.

AFRICA.

In Africa, we have now four scholarships and a teacher, with Mrs. De Heer* at Corisco; and seven scholarships at Gaboon, with Mrs. Bushnell. The new ones were all taken with great readiness, some of them through touching self-denial, by the dear children's hands. And when we learn from Mrs. Bushnell that Jesuits endeavor to entice away her pupils; and when we hear from the Orient that Musselmen of Constantinople are forming a society to propagate Mohammedanism and contest the success of British Christians in Mtesa's Kingdom, we know that Satan does not despise Africans. Truly, he "is wiser than the children of light." In

* Supported by Philadelphia Society.

at Bangkok, we have the native teacher and five pupils in the school opened by Mrs. House.* The progress of these pupils has made some of us at home say it would be well to have such schools for our own children. We have received two letters in fair Siamese characters, written by little girls who, rather more than a year ago, knew not a letter. They also learn to sew and keep a house in order. It is with keen regret that we learn that Mrs. House is now, doubtless, on her final return to this country. She leaves her school in care of Miss Grimstead.† Mrs. Wilson writes from Chiengmai, five hundred miles north of Bangkok: "Here we have been, for nearly eight years, living with the Laos, in the very solitudes of heathenism." The Laos women are very approachable, but volatile; and Mrs. Wilson waits with great longing for the translation of the bible into the Laos language, that the written Word, before their eyes, may awaken an abiding love in Christ. In assumed during the past year, we have eight schools, varying in expense from $100 to $200, which we have so far offered to auxiliaries in vain. Our missionary force here remains the same as last year, except Miss Morrison, whose marriage to an English civil officer, removes her from our list of laborers. Miss Bacon is now at Ambala, and her school is one for which we ask support. Our pleasant acquaintance with Miss Campbell, commenced at Woodstock, is to continue this year at Saharanpur. The last news from Mrs. Warren was of weariness and anxiety on account of past and possible ravages of small pox. She has opened her school, a small beginning, but destined, we hope, to grow, under her wise and loving care. Mrs. Kelso's visits among the women in their homes, her talks with them as they group about her in the streets, are all opportunities which she improves to scatter the "leaves which are for the healing of the nations" not only, but for the healing of their weary women's hearts.

Mrs. Lucas says of the schools under her charge, "I have nothing of special interest to write about them, only that they are progressing slowly, and that the good end of the Word is daily being impressed upon the minds of the pupils. When it will spring up and bear fruit the Master only knows; but we know that it will not return unto him void."

A recent letter from Miss Pratt, at Dehra, kindles a glow of her own enthusiasm, as we read of her intelligent and conscientious pupils. At a recent examination, one class in geography drew, in half an hour, maps from which a younger class followed in recitation, "without tripping." A girl who has been three years taught by Miss Pratt, has just passed her government examination. For this examination thirty-five boys from one school, and seven from another, went up, and all failed. Is it wise to be niggardly in the facilities we afford to such minds as these? Is it not plain that our very best women should be sent to teach such girls as these?

IN SYRIA,

We had, last year, three students and one school; we have now, in addition, eleven schools near Beirut and Abeih; some of them are already assumed by auxiliaries; others, at a cost varying from $100 to $220, gold, wait for willing workers. We have also assumed the support of two of the lady missionaries in Syria (Mrs. H. Jessup and Mrs. S. H. Calhoun). Through correspondence with these ladies and Rev. Wm. Bird, we hope to know more and to care more for the missionary work in Palestine.

Our work in

PERSIA

Has been so well represented in this country, during the past two years, by Mr. and Mrs. Coan, and later by Miss Dean, that it ought to be unusually familiar. Our two new missionaries for Persia, after some detention at Constantinople and a wearisome journey by steamer and rail and caravan, are now safely located, Miss Bassett in Teheran and Miss Poage in Oroomiah. Within eight days after her arrival in Teheran, Miss Bassett commenced the supervision of her school, aided by a native teacher. Far from home, working hard at a strange language, oppressed by her new responsibilities, and the intense need of the outpouring of the Holy Ghost, she asks us to pray for her. Shall we forget to do so? Thus doing, may we enter into her labors.

Miss Poage writes of the "Helpers' Meeting" lasting three days. Those who are supporting wives of native pastors will be interested in the earnestness of these men. They met the morning on which they were to separate, before sunrise, for a farewell prayer meeting. They stayed and prayed and talked till half-past twelve o'clock, without breakfast! One of them has been allowed to preach in a mosque to over thirty attentive listeners—Musselmén. Indeed, the present attitude of Mahomedanism towards Christianity, especially, perhaps, in Persia, is one of intense and peculiar interest. Later truths from the missionaries indicate actual danger to their work and to their lives; and yet they are not afraid.

Of the sixty-three mountain and village schools in Persia offered to us last year, thirty-six, including all those for girls, have been taken by auxiliaries for support, leaving twenty-seven unprovided for. Of the seventeen pastors' wives only one is unprovided for. Enough has been done to encourage, but not enough to satisfy.

To Miss Jewett, at Tabriz, the past year has been one of weariness and depression. She is returning to her former cheer and vigor; studying Armenian, teaching one school, superintending another, and visiting the women; "only this and nothing more." She asks for an associate—one who can sing. Is it not time we sent her one? The Master was wont to send them two by two. It will not pay to leave Miss Jewett alone in her schools as we did Miss Dean, until her strength gives out, and all the expense of the return and the rest must be incurred, besides the breaking up of the schools and the loss of moral power and prestige. There is a sort of beggarly "hand-to-mouth" way of doing things, and there is a wise and generous way. Which are we pursuing with our missionaries?

When Miss Bassett and Miss Poage sailed, there were other chosen spirits as willing to go as they, waiting only for Providence and the Board to send them. Since then, others still have been made known to us. Four or five of these seem to us fitted to go at once; and to one the means for outfit, passage, and a year's salary are offered by one of the waiting Marys and two of the Michigan societies. Let us set these facts down in gratitude, as we do our measure of success financially. During all the year we have prayed for missionaries and for money, God only knows how much, or, perchance, how little. But He has listened and given answer; and this suggests a phase of our religious, and, therefore, of our missionary life, which it is difficult to bring out clearly, but which is of vast and vital importance. This is the dominion of the immaterial and spiritual over the material and physical. We know well that we are too much absorbed in material things; the subtle, the invisible, the underlying—the real substances of things—are too little in our thoughts. Now, when a man may sit in New York and hear what they are saying in London or Paris, it would seem comparatively easy, by a series of approximations, to realize the power of mind over matter; of mind upon mind; of the man in Christ to prevail with God; but it is not so easy. We are slow to comprehend that the achievements of the century in the uses of heat, light, and electricity, are, or ought to be, so many natural evidences that God is providing for us another world for our activity—so many stimulants to educate ourselves therefor. Our Christian experience is poor indeed if we cannot recall instances of God's answering our petitions; but, after ail, are we wont to expect answers even to those prayers which we know are according to our Lord's will? "These things ought not so to be." It was not an arbitrary saying of our Savior, "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder plain; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you." It was not in mockery that He said, "Whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son." Though the promises "tarry long," let us "wait for them," and from whatever depths we cry, let it be in the "quietness and confidence" wherein lies strength. "Oh, thou that takest away the sins of the world, receive our prayer!" and our hearts, with folded hands, will listen restfully to God's voice through the prophecies and through the centuries. "Before they call I will answer, and while they are yet speaking I will hear."

REPORTS OF PRESBYTERIAL SOCIETIES.

MICHIGAN.

THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF SYNODICAL SOCIETY, ORGANIZED JANUARY, 1873.

During the year ending March 31st, 1876, there have been organized in our Synod (23) twenty-three new societies; which, added to (64) sixty-four, the number reported last year, gives a present total of (87) eighty-seven. Of these (47) forty-seven are Ladies' Missionary Societies; and (40) forty comprise the Young Ladies' Missionary Societies, and Children's Missionary Bands and Circles of our Churches.

The amount of money raised during the year, as reported from the several Presbyteries, is as follows:

Detroit Presbytery	} $3,334.32
Centennial Fund	} 111.00	$3,445.32
Monroe Presbytery	429.45
Saginaw	680.99
Grand Rapids	479.34
Kalamazoo	245.00
Lansing	275.80
Total	$5,555.90
Amt. reported for previous year	4,705.05
Increase	$850.85

Of the total revenues for the year as above stated, there have been reported from 47 Ladies' Societies, $2,745.99; from 40 Young Ladies' Societies and Children's Bands $2,837.91, showing the gratifying fact, that the societies of the young people, although fewer in number, have in their contributions exceeded the amount of the older societies, by nearly one hundred dollars; thus affording the earnest of great and precious things in the future of these young people, as the result of this early intelligence, sympathy and self-sacrifice in behalf of the heathen world.

*In this country.

The following lists are complete, so far as the objects supported by auxiliaries are known to the Secretaries by name, or in any other way. In cases where an auxiliary wishes a certain object, but has not yet obtained it, the reference to this subject is only in the report of the auxiliary. It is very desirable that auxiliaries should give NAMES of objects supported by them, and state whether they hold communication with missionaries independent of the Secretaries.
